LEARNING PROGRAMME 2012/13

Welcome to Aberdeen Art Gallery and Museums Learning Programme 2012/13.

We have created a new series of exciting and free of charge facilitated workshops for schools that are not only great fun but also complement the Curriculum for Excellence on many levels. We may add to this programme throughout the year so check your email for our regular e-flyers.

The House of Annie Lennox

Aberdeen Art Gallery
14-28 September 2012

The worlds of art and music collide in this exciting new workshop. It combines a visit to The House of Annie Lennox exhibition with the opportunity to work with a music specialist to create a response to the costumes, photos and music videos on display.

Exhibition organised by the Victoria and Albert Museum, London.

Whaling and Fishing

In Your School
1-12 October 2012

Long before the oil industry became Aberdeen's biggest employer, the whaling and fishing industries reigned supreme. This is an opportunity to handle objects related to the story of these often brutal trades and discover why they went into decline. This workshop is free to Aberdeen City schools and we ask Aberdeenshire schools to cover our travel expenses to your school only.

Life at Sea

Aberdeen Maritime Museum
30 October-30 November 2012

We are given a rare snapshot of what life on a tall ship was really like in the early 20th Century thanks to Alan Villiers' striking black and white photographs. To complement the exhibition The Last of the Tall Ships: Photographs by Alan Villiers (1903-82) pupils will practice the skills of knot making and learn about reefing and repairing sails.

Christmas

Provost Skene's House
3-14 December 2012

To celebrate the holiday season we are offering a series of Christmas Craft workshops. We will tour this impressive building which always looks at its best adorned with festive decorations, to explore Christmas traditions from the past. Pupils will then make their own decorations to take back to school.

Silver

Aberdeen Art Gallery
14-31 January 2013

400 years of Aberdeen silversmiths' creative brilliance is on display in this major exhibition, Silver - The Aberdeen Story. The complementary workshop will shed new light on the once flourishing and international trade and will give pupils the opportunity to recreate some of the techniques of this profession.

Fashion Photography

Aberdeen Art Gallery
5-28 February 2013

High fashion arrives in Aberdeen with this stunning exhibition, Selling Dreams: One Hundred Years of Fashion Photography that reflects key themes in fashion photography throughout the past 100 years. Working with a professional photographer, pupils will gain an insight into what is involved in creating a picture perfect final image.

Exhibition organised by the Victoria and Albert Museum, London.

Wreck and Rescue

Aberdeen Maritime Museum
1-30 April 2013

Travelling anywhere by sea has always been fraught with dangers and even with the high tech safety equipment available today, disasters still happen. To coincide with the exhibition on the bicentenary of the wreck of the whaling ship the Oscar, this workshop looks at all aspects of safety at sea.

Energy Exploration

Aberdeen Maritime Museum
1-31 May 2013

We are delighted to welcome school parties to view the Maritime Museum's new Energy Galleries. Thanks to generous support from Aberdeen's oil and gas industry we have been able to update our displays and include new topics such as renewable energy. The session also includes a 30 minute object handling session.

Art for Toots

Aberdeen Art Gallery
4-28 June 2013

This end of term treat has been created specifically with our younger visitors in mind. We will explore the Gallery to find a range of bright and beautiful paintings that will inspire your group of under 5s to create their own masterpiece.
